

---

Rescued the Dickey Bird's Crew.

PORT JEFFERSON, L. I., Oct. 19.—George Woodhull, Captain of the schooner Adele Ball, from Charleston for Wilmington, Del., came into port to-night, and reported that he and his crew rescued Capt. Cleveland and crew, from the schooner Dickey Bird of Bath, Me.

The schooner was from Brunswick, with a load of lumber. The Dickey Bird became waterlogged, and her masts were blown away. The crew were thirty hours without food. They lost everything belonging to them.

---

The New York Times

Published: October 20, 1895

Copyright © The New York Times